about the cover

"Ride A Rocket"

Laurin McCracken AWS NWS
Watercolor, 24" x 19"
Courtesy of Southside Gallery, Oxford, MS

A friend has a collection of wind-up toys from the 40's and 50's. I photographed this against a matte black background with a single source of light from the upper left. I felt that the toys need to be anchored on a surface rather than float on the black so I added the checkerboard pattern. That meant that I had to create reflections of the checkerboard in the base of the Ride A Rocket toy. The wires supporting the "rockets" were masked with DANIEL SMITH Masking Fluid.
